Introduction

Dear Friend:

A lot has been written on the subject of “success,” how to pursue success, how to obtain success, and more.

The purpose of this ebook is not to serve as the “end all and be all” of every single success book ever written.

My purpose here is to simply give you my perspective about how the thoughts we have impact our success (but to give it to you with my own unique style and “flair”).

Here’s the one singular idea that runs a common thread between every single book, tape, CD, report or speech ever created with the intention of helping people better themselves:

“Whatever you think about on a consistent basis, good or bad,
MUST become your reality.

Change your thinking... change your reality!”

Some programs express it more eloquently than others, but the general idea is that by changing your thinking, you will change your life.

My purpose here is to help you understand how and why what you think about on a consistent basis creates your reality. This will enable you to start doing it on purpose, instead of by accident, which is the way MOST people do it.

My sincere wish is that you experience one of those “a-ha” moments while reading “Guaranteed Success Thinking” and it helps change your life forever!

To your success,

Jim Edwards

“WHY You Are WHO (and WHERE) You Are Right Now”

“We become what we think about most of the time” was an idea made famous by Earl Nightingale, father of the modern audio self-help movement.

He got the idea from Napoleon Hill’s classic work, “Think and Grow Rich.”

Napoleon Hill got the idea by interviewing hundreds of successful men of his time and discovering they all held in common the character trait of the “dominant idea” whereby they held on to a specific idea with a purpose long enough to see their dreams come true.

However you choose to express it, the current state of our lives comes down to one single, immutable fact:

You are who you are right now... and you are where you are right now... because of the total sum of the thoughts you’ve had to this point in your life.

Let me say it a little differently....

Where and who you are in life right now is the direct result of what you’ve thought about consistently up to this point.

If you have NOT thought about much, you don’t have much.

If you have NOT consistently and relentlessly thought about how to get rich, you’re not rich.

If your thoughts HAVE consistently and relentlessly revolved around how to make JUST enough money to pay your bills each month... then you’ve probably gotten very good at JUST getting your bills paid each month (but probably not much more than that).

If you HAVE consistently and relentlessly thought about how to be a good person, treat people fairly in all your dealings, raise good kids, take a vacation once a year, make your dog roll over, buy a new car... WHATEVER IT IS you’ve thought about consistently.... you’ve probably gotten it.

Why?

Why is it that who you are and everything you have in your life right now is the sum total (literally) of all your thoughts up to this point?

Simple.

James Allen put it best when he popularized the phrase, “As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.”

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

What you think about and, more importantly, believe in your gut, is what will become your everyday reality.

Everything you believe and take as “true” in your life manifests itself into your reality as a result of what you think. Sometimes it’s fast, other times it takes years to show up.

But either way, make no mistake...

Your predominant thoughts will... no, MUST manifest themselves in physical form in your life sooner or later... so make darn sure you want to give “birth” to those thoughts!

Just like the plants in your garden spring from a seed, so does everything in your life spring from the seeds of thought (conscious and unconscious) and the actions (or inactions) that result from those thoughts.

Thought (or lack of thought) leads to action (or inaction) which always leads to results.

Simple 2-word thoughts like “I can” lead to actions which bring about great life changing events.

The lady who thinks “I can lose 100 lbs” and does it.

The man who thinks “I can write a book to help millions of people” and does it.

The little child who thinks “I can get good grades, go to college, and become a doctor” and does it.

That simple thought of “I can” planted in the fertile soil of an expectant mind creates actions that result in wonderful achievements anyone can feel proud of.

On the flipside of the coin, simple thoughts of “I can’t” or “That’s too hard” or “Nobody will buy that” create a life that, frankly, sucks!

The lady who thinks “I’ve tried to lose weight before, it didn’t work, so why bother.” What does she get?

The man who thinks “Nobody would buy my book.” What does he get?

The child who thinks “Nobody from my family has graduated from college, so why bother.” What does he get?

All of those simple thoughts create a mediocre life of frustration, resentment and deprivation -- UNTIL and UNLESS the person changes what they think about!

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

Bottom Line:

“Whatever you have in your life.... Whoever you are in your character... it’s the direct result of everything you have thought about (or not thought about) up to this point.”

But the great news is that if you don’t have what you want, you can change what you think about and thus, change what you’re getting!

Even better news!

If you LIKE what you’re already getting, you can change the way you’re thinking and get EVEN MORE of that too!

Now I didn’t just pull this idea out of thin air... let’s think for a moment about how and why you have what you have in life.

It’s not the result of chance.

It’s not the result of the Universe conspiring for or against you.

It’s not the result of the actions of others.

You are where you are and have what you have as the result of a Universal LAW.

This Universal Law has applied to mankind and remained a fact of life since man first set foot on the earth. The law simply states....

“Thought (or lack of thought) leads to action (or inaction) which always leads to results.”

The results you experience in your life are directly related to the thoughts you hold on a consistent basis.

What other people do may slow you down, but it can’t stop you.

The Universe might test you and throw roadblocks in front of you, but those can’t stop you.

Chance events like hurricanes, other natural disasters, or war might delay you, or force you to change course, but they can’t stop you unless they kill you.

The only thing that can stop (or start) you achieving your goals is YOU!

If you think you can.... You can!

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

---

But the minute you say “I’m defeated”... you ARE!

We make or break ourselves in that little 6-inch space between our ears we call a brain. That is the source of all success or failure we experience at any time in our lives.

But, the great news is that we can, through practice, meditation, and education, create new patterns of thought... which lead to new actions... which lead to NEW RESULTS.

In other words, if we start thinking in new ways, we’ll start doing new things (and stop doing old things) to achieve new results.

I know you’ve heard the phrase “Water seeks its own level.” Well this process is how you change the level of water in your tank so you can rise above the current conditions of your life.

We can all change who, what, and where we are in our lives simply by changing how and what we think about on a consistent basis.

So yes, if you want:

- a better bank balance
- a better relationship
- a new car
- a new job
- a different spouse
- a better kid
- to lose weight
- a trip to the Bahamas
- to write a book
- to start a business
- to stop a smoking
- to help your church
- to be closer to God
- to get a new PlayStation game
- to stop working for someone else
- to buy a HUMMER
- to get a hot tub
- to add on to your house
- to have $500 in your wallet
- to pay off all your bills
- to fly to the moon
- to cruise around the world
- to speak in Yankee Stadium to a crowd of 50,000
- to earn $75,000 in 24 hours
- to be recognized as the world expert in your field

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

---

- to appreciate the small things in life
- to feel inner peace
- to stop feeling overwhelmed
- to get in shape
- to bench press 300 pounds
- to run a marathon
- to look as good as you did at 20
- to impress the opposite sex...

To get WHATEVER you want, the change that must take place is NOT outside you... but rather it is completely within your control INSIDE your head.

Just by understanding and accepting this FACT of life puts you ahead of 99% of all the people out there who want to blame something outside themselves for their circumstances.

Who do they blame for their current lot in life?

Well, let's see. How about:

- life in general
- the government
- God
- other people
- circumstances
- nature
- “fate”
- their parents
- their brothers and sisters
- their spouse
- their kids
- their boss
- their age
- their generation
- their car
- their education (or lack thereof)
- their size...

... and about 100 other factors they say “keep them down” through no fault of their own.

However, here's the secret they don't understand.

You are where and who you are right now as the sum total of all your thoughts to this point in your life. BUT it's only up to this point!

YOU CAN CHANGE ANY TIME YOU WANT!

Any time you want, you can CHANGE what you're thinking about and, thus, CHANGE who you are and what you have from this point forward!

Examples of people who've used the power of their thoughts to overcome tremendous obstacles:

- Oprah Winfrey
- Colonel Sanders
- Loretta Lynn
- Abraham Lincoln
- Dale Carnegie
- ... and any other “rags to riches” or “against all odds” success story you want to mention!

Unlike those people I mentioned before who hold the predominant thought of blaming others for their lot in life and allowing this blame to keep them down, what YOU think about from this point forward will only BUILD you up because, unlike them, you're thinking your way to success!

Remember this fact: Everything you see on the outside is the direct result of the thoughts going on inside. This applies to every person you come in contact with... including yourself!

I think this chapter is best summarized by the quote “Circumstances do not make the man, they reveal him!”

Now, let's talk about how your thoughts directly affect the outward circumstances of your own life....

“How and Why Thoughts Manifest Into Your Everyday Life”

This metaphor has been used by every self-help guru from James Allen... to Napoleon Hill... to Earl Nightingale... to Tony Robbins (and all points in between):

Your mind is like a garden.

You can cultivate your garden intelligently, or you can let it run wild and turn into a tangled mass of thorns and weeds... the choice is yours alone.

If you don't consciously cultivate the garden (i.e. go out and hoe it, pull the weeds, water it, turn over the soil) it's the same as if you consciously went out there and threw a handful of weed seeds onto the soil yourself and watered those.

If bad things (weeds) manifest consistently in your life (garden), it's because you haven't consciously decided to cultivate good thoughts (seeds), care for them, nurture them, and consciously aid their growth until they bear fruit.

If you leave your life to chance, you'll get a life created by chance... and, unless you hit the billion-to-one shot lottery, your life will most likely “suck” as a direct result of your failure to use your thoughts to consciously create what you want.

But, by consciously sowing seeds of good thought through education, meditation, and observation, two very interesting and EXCITING things will happen in your life very quickly:

1. First, you will start to see physical manifestations of your carefully cultivated thoughts. That new job, car, relationship, vacation, bank balance, and other things will start to appear.
2. Second, as you start to see physical manifestations of your carefully cultivated thoughts, your CONFIDENCE and BELIEF in your ability to make things happen will INCREASE dramatically. This will in turn cause you to CHANGE YOUR CIRCUMSTANCES much more RAPIDLY than you ever dreamed possible!

In other words, the more you see the “positive proof” of carefully cultivated thought manifesting in your own life, the more quickly you'll generate those desired results in the future.

“Seeing is believing” and nothing beats seeing your own thoughts manifest REAL RESULTS in your own life.

You see, the reality is, most of us are really, REALLY good at creating a crappy looking weed patch with our own minds.

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

We're very good at that process... heck, most of us have reached the highest level of competence in any skill -- “unconscious competence” -- for creating what we don't want.

Most of us are unconsciously creating a crappy weed patch in our own lives at this very moment... and we don't even realize it.

But instead of getting depressed about that, it should actually get you VERY excited.

Excited? Have I lost my mind?

Why on earth should you get excited about creating crappy results in your life?

I'll tell you why...

Because that crappy weed patch just goes to show that we are fully engaged in the process of translating our thoughts into the everyday reality of our lives... we're just sowing the wrong thoughts!

It proves we know HOW to do this because we're ALREADY doing it!

But simply by changing what we think about on a consistent basis, we can start to cultivate good thoughts and ideas, instead of cultivating bad ones... and those good thoughts will bear the fruits we DO WANT, instead of only yielding nothing but those stinking weeds!

Here's my bottom-line take on what is probably the most popular metaphor ever used to try to explain how what we think about directly influences the results we get in our lives.

Your mind is like a garden.

Your thoughts are like the seeds planted in that garden.

Your attitude is like the sun and the rain on those seeds.

Your actions (or inactions) are like the gardener's daily care in weeding, nurturing, and watching over the growing plants.

The results you manifest in your life are like the fruit from those plants.

It all starts with sowing quality thought-seeds in the garden of your mind.

The rest of the process may take longer for some plants (thoughts) than others.

Some seeds take longer to reach full maturity than others (just like some ideas take longer to come into being than others).

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

But, as you become a more skilled gardener and:

- learn how to choose the best thought-seeds...
- discover new and better ways to water, fertilize and care for those thought-seeds...
- grow in confidence with your skills and abilities...

You will AMAZE YOURSELF at your speed and ability to manifest things you previously never thought possible!

You, like the garden, will become fully engaged in the process of purpose-driven growth that is the highest path of all life... and as a result, your everyday life will reflect your new-found levels of success thinking by bearing more “fruit” than you could dare to hope for right now.

How can you use this chapter to start yourself on the path to guaranteed success thinking?

Simple.

Start by taking more conscious control of the seeds you plant in your mind-garden.

You do this simply by increasing your awareness of the type and quality of the thoughts you consistently hold in your mind during the day.

Are those thoughts generally positive or negative?

Do they make you feel good, or do they make you feel nervous, rushed, inadequate, or lacking in some way?

Play a little game I like to play where every time I have a negative thought... I simply replace every negative thought with a positive one.

Example:

Any time I question my ability to do something, I immediately replace that thought with a memory of a time or similar circumstance where I acted competently and got a successful result.

Nothing happens by accident!

Every result in our lives starts with the dominant thoughts we hold in our minds (or allow others to put there because we have NO CONSISTENT THOUGHTS OF OUR OWN!).

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

- The unsuccessful person is either dominated by thoughts of “just getting by” or worse, has never even considered giving consistent thought on how to become successful by enriching others.
- The out-of-shape person is either dominated by thoughts of “there are other things more important right now than physical health” or worse, has never given any consistent thought on how to integrate exercise into their lives.
- The person in a crummy job who says they want out, but can never seem to get ahead has either never done anything to outgrow their current position through education and re-training or worse, has never given any consistent thought on how to expand themselves and their skills... and simply chalks up their lot in life to “fate.” The “rut” they complain about is of their own creation!

Thoughts create reality... and remember: your reality is the sum of all your thoughts to this point in your life.

If you want to radically change your life (and do it FAST), then you must radically CHANGE the way you think!

Why?

Because your thoughts become habits... and habits create automatic action (or inaction) in your life... and action (or inaction) is what translates thought into reality in your life.

Let’s look at some examples of typical thought patterns, the habits they create, and the results you can expect from them.

Negative Thought-Seeds and Their Results

Thoughts of fear, doubt, and indecision create the habit of not going full out in any activity, which results in half-hearted action, which ends in true failure because you never give anything your full effort.

Thoughts of “just getting by” create the habit of doing “just enough,” which results in never having more than “just enough” to get by, month after month, which ends in a lifetime of mediocrity.

Thoughts of hate, judgment, or blaming others creates the habit of holding others responsible for the bad circumstances in our lives, which results in always feeling out of control and ends in bitterness and depression.

Thoughts of selfishness create habits of “me first and others be damned” which results in you becoming an absolute idiot and a jerk to be around, let alone the effect it has on your business.

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

Positive Thought-Seeds and Their Results

Thoughts of courage, self-reliance, and firm decision create the habit of “going for it on a consistent basis” which results in achieving virtually any goal you could lay out for yourself.

Thoughts of peace, unlimited abundance, and forgiveness create the habit of letting go of any negative experience, person, or event that flows into your life and results in true peace of mind and a calm spirit.

Thoughts of love and sharing creates a habit of selfless giving to others which lies at the heart of all abiding prosperity and true riches.

Thoughts of giving more in “use” value than you take in “cash” value from employers and customers creates the habit of always looking for the “win-win” path which results in long-term, lasting success in ANY business or relationship in ANY market conditions.

Bottom Line: Good habits... bad habits... makes no difference when it comes to planting seeds in the garden of your mind because YOU WILL PLANT SEEDS and they will grow -- it's up to you to decide which kind you will grow (and you WILL grow them).

So to start the success thinking habit, just be more conscious of the thoughts flowing through your mind, instead of just taking them in and automatically planting them as thought-seeds into your garden.

Even if you only do it a little bit at first, this simple exercise of practicing more conscious awareness about which of your thoughts you hold in your mind consistently will cause positive external changes in your life on virtual autopilot.

As you do this and see the results, you'll want to do it more and more!

This will build a positive “snowball” or “upward spiral” effect in your life that will accelerate your success thinking process.

Here's one more thought that's worth thinking about on a consistent basis, especially when “bad” things happen to you.

“Everything that happens in my life has a purpose and it serves me!”

This applies not only to the “good” things that happen in your life, but to the “bad” as well.

A gut-level belief in this statement will change your life because it will change your thinking from trying to impose judgment on “Why did this happen to me?” and converts

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

it to an empowering perspective of “How can I use this to serve myself and those around me for the greater good?”

From my own life, I can look back on some of what I thought were the worst events of my life and see that they actually made me stronger, smarter, and more able to move forward in achieving my purpose in life.

So STOP sowing negative seeds in your own mind, either on purpose by consistently holding negative thoughts in your consciousness, or by default because you don't consciously sow good thought-seeds.

START changing the outward circumstances of your own life by first changing the dominant thoughts you hold in your mind on a consistent basis!

Now, let's discuss how you can turbo-charge the guaranteed success thinking process and change your life even faster by giving your thoughts incredible and real muscle...

“How To Put Unstoppable Force Behind Your Thoughts”

The most powerful force to put behind any thought in order to get yourself into action and bring your vision into reality is the power of “Why”!

“Why” to do something is much more powerful than “how” to do something.

Most people get stopped in the accomplishment of any meaningful goal because they get “stuck” on “how” they will accomplish something.

The failure first asks “how” -- the successful person first asks “why” and then intelligently arranges the “how” by figuring things out or hiring someone to do it for them!

The person who gets past the biggest obstacles is the person who has a big enough reason “why” to get themselves to take action and make things happen... no matter how big or imposing the goal might appear.

No meaningful accomplishments happen in anyone’s life until they link their thoughts with a PURPOSE, their own personal and meaningful reason WHY!

Without a purpose, our thoughts drift aimlessly, sometimes coming into being, but mostly just staying right where they are... as thoughts waiting for an opportunity to manifest themselves.

People with no central purpose for their lives, no chief aim or direction, are the ones who fall prey to petty worries, fears, whining, squabbling, and overall moronic behavior. By not operating with a central plan or purpose, they meander through life just as worthless to themselves and others as the person who deliberately decides to do nothing of any real value for anyone else.

By the way, the goal or thought to which you attach your purpose doesn’t matter... it can be a material possession such as a car.... an improved relationship.... a sum of money.... it doesn’t matter what it is because the Universal Laws at work here don’t make any judgments.

The power of purpose will just as surely bring about the manifestation of a car as it will a divine relationship.... or a specific teacher.... or a new skill.... or even a new dog named Dinky if that’s what you think about on a consistent basis.

Again, what it is doesn’t matter as long as your purpose for getting it, achieving, it, or creating it is clear and strong.

What does matter is that you KEEP the object and your purpose for getting it in FRONT of you at all times.

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

What matters is that the object of your desire becomes your predominant thought and you combine it with a purpose that drives you into action towards its attainment.

If you are unsuccessful on your initial attempts, I say “SO WHAT!”

We often learn as much (if not more) from our mistakes and falling short of our goals as we do from our successes. USE those experiences to GROW STRONGER so you may make repeated attempts until you GET what you WANT!

NOTHING can stop a man or woman with a committed purpose to bring about a specific result... NOTHING!

If you're committed and have a strong enough reason WHY, there is NOTHING you can't accomplish!

Now, if you don't know what your purpose is in your life right now, instead of whining and moaning that you don't know what you want or why you want it, conduct yourself as someone who will, at any moment, receive the message of inspiration that will help you know exactly what you want and your purpose in achieving it.

You may not know what your purpose is right now, but have faith that it will make itself known when you are ready.

In the meantime, prepare yourself through study and the practice of what Earl Nightingale called “cheerful expectancy” that your understanding of your purpose is on its way to you right now.

Now, let's talk about how to think your way to success...

How Your Thoughts Influence Your Success

Here is an inescapable fact of life:

“Everything you achieve or fail to achieve in your life is the direct result of your own thoughts!”

If you fail, accept responsibility and learn from it.

If you succeed, accept responsibility and learn from it.

Now, to some, that might seem harsh. In fact, you might even be saying to yourself, “Hey, wait a minute. Not so fast there. I would have succeeded if so-and-so or thus-and-such hadn’t done this or that!”

“It’s not MY fault!” you say.

And to that I would say, “Nope.”

If you fail, accept responsibility and learn from it.

If you succeed, accept responsibility and learn from it.

How can I say this? Well, let’s look at the alternative of NOT accepting responsibility.

If you can’t take the blame or the credit when something goes well or turns sour, then who or what can?

If you aren’t in control of what’s happening, then who is?

Is God the source of success or failure?

Hey, I believe God loves us all, but God has more important stuff to do than worry about whether you attain success or not.

He gave you the tools and the daily opportunity to put them to use and reap successful results... the rest is up to you.

So if it’s not God, then who can we blame for failure or thank for success? Our environment? Where we grew up?

Well, if our environment were the true source of success or failure in life, then everyone from a particular family, or geographical region would all be successful. And everyone from another family or geographical region would all be losers.

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

But you know that’s not true.

Plenty of people from privileged backgrounds end up as supreme idiots and losers in all areas of life, while others with seemingly every force in the Universe acting against them manage to consistently come out on top.

So if it’s not environment or family, it must be education or some “secret” people are keeping from us that if we only knew it, we would be successful too.

Well, if it’s education, why are some doctors and other highly educated people dead broke losers on their 5th marriage while some people without a 9th grade education operate thriving businesses and are still married to their grade-school sweetheart?

Well, there’s another excuse down the toilet.

You see, any excuse anyone can give you as to why they aren’t successful really doesn’t hold water.

As my Texas friends say, “That dog won’t hunt, son!”

Nope, the one true source of all your success or failure can be traced directly back to the quality and consistency of your thoughts.

We’ve come full circle back to my original statement that all success or failure starts in that 6-inch space between your ears.

Your happiness (or suffering).

Your achievement (or failure).

Your material possessions (or poverty).

Your relationships (or isolation).

Your successful business (or just getting by).

Your high self-esteem (or low self-worth).

EVERYTHING you experience in your life, good or bad, first originates INSIDE of you in the form of your thoughts!

Whatever you think about on a consistent basis will do one of 3 things:

1. Lead you upward to the success you say you want, or

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

2. Keep you right where you are (is that enough?), or
3. Drive you down into the gutter of your own mind.

That’s it.... Those are the only three things that come out of our consistent thoughts and the right to choose is yours every minute of every day you’re alive.

When you’re ready to make a change on the outside of your life, the first place you must look is within yourself and make a change in the way you think.

By the way, nobody can change your inner thoughts but you.

Other people can offer models, or examples, or explain new ways of thinking, but no amount of help from others will actually make a difference unless you are ready to make a change.

YOU hold the keys to success or failure because you are the only one who can control WHAT you think about on a consistent basis.

It’s easier to blame (or give credit to) someone or something outside yourself for where you are, but ultimately YOUR willingness to accept the blame or the credit lies at the heart of lasting change.

As James Allen said, “A man can only rise, conquer, and achieve by lifting up his thoughts. He can only remain weak, abject, and miserable by refusing to lift up his thoughts.”

Your level of success and achievement will be in direct proportion to your ability to harness the power of your thinking into effectively planning and organizing your thoughts and actions toward a specific goal with a strong purpose.

Let me say that again in case you’re tempted to go by it, because that statement holds the key to guaranteed success thinking.

Your level of success and achievement in any area of life is in direct proportion to your ability and willingness to direct your thoughts into effective planning and organized action towards a specific goal combined with a strong reason WHY you’re doing it in the first place!

Re-read the statement in the above box at least 5 times to burn it into your brain.

No meaningful success or lasting achievement is ever attained without it.

“Open Your Mind... Dare To Dream Again”

As we get older, instead of expanding, we tend to actually close down mentally and try to protect ourselves against disappointment.

It's safer not to have too many dreams, because it's easier to avoid disappointments that way.

Where you are right now might not feel that great, but it sure beats feeling disappointed! It sure beats having your dreams and hopes dashed against the rocks or worse, feeling stupid or ridiculous for having hoped in the first place!

The problem with mentally “circling the wagons” as you get older is that you close yourself down to the very thoughts that will change your life.

Since everything starts in your mind, then you must be willing to open your heart and mind to a flow of new ideas.... otherwise you'll just keep getting what you're already getting. And chances are, you wouldn't have read this far if you felt 100% satisfied with the condition of your life at this point in time.

Sure, we all want to avoid disappointment.

We all want to keep from feeling hurt.... or stupid... or ridiculous.... or wrong.... or any of the negative emotions all of us have experienced (and will experience again and again if we're living fully).

But unless you can form a new vision in your mind of what you want and why you want it, you'll never get anything meaningful out of life.

Unless you open yourself up to new ideas, new people, and new ways of thinking, you'll never get the new thoughts you need to make positive changes in your life.

It just won't happen.

So dig those old dreams back out... even the ones you're too scared to admit even to yourself, let alone a friend or a spouse.

Don't hide those dreams, pull them out and take a good hard look at them.

Did you realize you can have anything you want if you simply think about it often enough and have a strong enough reason why you want it?

It's true... because those two factors, desire and purpose, will drive you to take the necessary actions to achieve any goal!

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

So don't hide from your dreams or bury them in the back corners of your mind!

Pull them out and keep them right there in front of you.

Charge them with the power of your consistent thoughts and actions which will, in turn, bring them into your everyday reality without fail!

In fact, DREAM BIG!

Dream as big as you can!

Dream so big that even if you only got halfway to your goal or desire your life would be totally unrecognizable from where it is right now!

ASK and you shall receive... it's a Universal Law that cannot be broken, so do yourself a favor:

ASK for something really GOOD!

Your life may not be where you want it to be right now...

Your life may totally suck...

Your life might be boring...

You might be poor...

You might have a heart condition...

You might be a cancer survivor...

You might have had severe asthma as a child...

You might have adult ADD...

You might hate where you live...

You might drive a 10-year-old car...

You might work for a boss who is an idiot...

You might not have any confidence in your ability to change things...

In fact, your situation could seem totally hopeless...

But you know what -- none of that matters.

“Guaranteed Success Thinking”

---

What matters is that you can CHANGE ANYTHING you don't like about your life and put yourself on the path to success simply by changing what you think about on a consistent basis.

Some problems take longer than others to work through, sure.

But with consistent thought and action -- with a purpose -- you MUST achieve success in your life.

With that formula there's no way you can't succeed!

So do yourself a favor and burn the following into your brain.

Read it every day... memorize it... and make it a part of your everyday thought process.

It will literally change your life forever!

Your level of success and achievement in any area of life is in direct proportion to your ability and willingness to direct your thoughts into effective planning and organized action towards a specific goal combined with a strong reason WHY you're doing it in the first place!

To your success,

Jim Edwards
